Handling Feedback Without Shutting Down

SOCIAL SKILLS

HOW TO USE THIS ACTIVITY

- Read a feedback scenario. Student practices listening, asking one clarifying question, and stating the next action.
- Emphasize that feedback can be useful even when it feels uncomfortable.

3-step response: Listen without interrupting. Clarify what needs to change. Repeat the next step.

Practice: 'These shelves need to be organized differently.' Response _____. 'Please keep your phone put away while working.' Response _____.
