

TRANSITION TEAM ■ Would You Hire Them? Game

JOB READINESS

HOW TO USE THIS ACTIVITY

- Read each applicant scenario. Students vote YES, NOT YET, or NEED MORE INFORMATION, then explain which job-readiness behaviors affected the decision.
- There may be more than one defensible answer; require students to support their reasoning.

Applicant A arrives 10 minutes early, is polite, but has not researched the company. Applicant B has experience but checks their phone twice during the interview. Applicant C has little experience but gives clear examples of being dependable. Applicant D is qualified but complains about a former teacher/employer.

Extension: Students rewrite one applicant's behavior to improve the interview.
