

Professional Texting & Email

Job Readiness • practice messages that sound mature and clear

FOR STAFF • 30-MINUTE SESSION

Purpose: Practice contacting supervisors/teachers without sounding rude, vague, or overly casual.

Materials: This packet.

Easy flow: 5 min spot problems • 15 min rewrite messages • 5 min role-play • 5 min reflection.

Fix These Messages

BAD EXAMPLE: “yo i cant come”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

BAD EXAMPLE: “what time i work”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

BAD EXAMPLE: “I NEED OFF SATURDAY!!!”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

BAD EXAMPLE: “hey why my check short”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

BAD EXAMPLE: “k”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

BAD EXAMPLE: “imma be late”

Rewrite it: _____

Rewrite it: _____

Build a Professional Message

- ☐ Greeting/name
- ☐ Reason for message
- ☐ Important details (date/time)
- ☐ Clear request or next step
- ☐ Thank you/closing

You are running 10 minutes late.

Message: _____

Message: _____

Message: _____

You need to ask what time you work Saturday.

Message: _____

Message: _____

Message: _____

You need to request next Friday off for an appointment.

Message: _____

Message: _____

Message: _____

Your paycheck seems incorrect.

Message: _____

Message: _____

Message: _____

Wrap-Up • Get Them Talking

💬 When is a phone call better than a text?

💬 What makes a message sound disrespectful even if you did not mean it that way?

💬 What details help a supervisor solve the problem faster?
